

Beauty to Join Baseball Stars at Bank's Opening

Hollywood beauty Carol Christensen will reign over festivities Saturday when Pacific State holds grand opening ceremonies for its expanded new Hawthorne headquarters. Miss Christensen, co-star or featured player in five pictures at Twentieth Century-Fox, has also appeared in major roles in three television series. She will greet visitors to the bank building opening, which will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., as well as participate in ribbon-cutting ceremonies for the facility prior to the opening. THE APPEARANCE of two major league ballplayers, a tour of the entire Pacific State Bank facility, free key-chains, a display of space-age models by Northrop Corp. and North American Aviation, rides for the children, and refreshments are all in store for bank guests on Saturday. A total of 14 separate points of interest along the tour will show South Bay visitors the bank's modern new precision money vault, a working display of its electronic drive-in windows, its new automation center and the many new service sections designed for maximum customer convenience. President Robert C. Yeary and other PSB executives will be official hosts to the public at the grand opening, marking a major milestone in the history of the Centinela Valley's only independent community multi-branch banking institution.

The new bank facility adds more than 30,000 sq. ft. to the Hawthorne installation at 885 S. Hawthorne Blvd., increasing by five times the space available to customers.

"One of these days, a practical legislator will pass a bill which will have all holidays fall on a Friday or a Monday." — Charles E. Seel, Atlantic City (N.J.) Reporter.

Brown Urges Bipartisan Voter Drive

Gov. Edmund G. Brown this week urged all Californians to join in the statewide bipartisan campaign to register three million voters before Sept. 13. Brown, recalling the anniversary of the Berlin Wall, said, "The Berlin Wall should stand as a reminder to all of us that our rights are dependent on strong exercise of them. The right to vote is among the most precious of those rights." California has three million unregistered voters. The governor urged all organizations to join in the drive to register new residents, voters who failed to vote in the primary election, and those who have since moved. Sept. 13 is the final date to register for the November election at which congressional and state posts will be at stake.
